ALMOST A SOUTHERN CAROLINIAN.

Remains of Sen. John B. Bankhead of Alabama from Union-Other Inter-Religious Characters.

A special dispatch from Spartanburg to the News and Courier says: Remains of Sen. John B. Bankhead of Alabama from Union-Other Inter-Religious Characters.

He was a peculiar sort of man. In the forties, when cotton was low, he would take Washington, D. C. would be a better market than Columbia. He loaded two tales on his wagon and struck out by way of Lincoln.

Edgewood Letter.

Edgewood, July 15.—The "Edgewood" is a very interesting letter. Quite a number of the young folks here took a wagon and went over to the creek for a picnic.

Mr. Allen W. of Lancaster, and Mr. M. M. Willford, of this place, and they had the time and place they did, as there were in the wagon.

Mr. Neely and Mrs. Wylie have returned by their house, after spending a week with their mother, Mrs. C. H. Little, Elizabeth and Joe G. Little.

Mr. Addie Willford and children, who have come to spend the summer with their mother, Mrs. C. H. Little, Elizabeth and Joe G. Little.

Miss Bees Crook, who has a position in Georgia as a stenographer, is at home for a vacation.

Mr. Harwell has returned from his trip to Little town and has been in Little town for some time.

Mr. Fennell was dead yesterday afternoon to see David Ernest Galt. The little fellow improves very slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams Fudge visited Mr. John Fudge and family one day last week.

Miss Mary Culp, postmistress at this place, was in Chester shopping one day last week.

Why Captain Clay Resigned.
